

IODP-MSP (Exp. 347) VISUAL SECTION UNIT DESCRIPTION

Exp. 347	Site 59	Hole C	Core 21	Type H	Section 1
-------------	------------	-----------	------------	-----------	--------------

Date 1/27/14	Time	Observers MK/SP
-----------------	------	--------------------

[cm]	Graphic Lith.	Lith.	Bioturb.	Structure	Fossils	Sorting	Round-ness	Color	Accessories	Core Disturbance	Description
 0 10 20 30 40 50 60 70 80 90 100 110 120 130 140 150 160 											0-28 cm: heavily disturbed, probably fall-in 28-104 cm: Grayish brown (10YR4/2) clay with silt laminae set rhythmic laminations with regularly spaced silt-clay couplets silt laminae are very thin ~ 1 mm; individual couplets are ~ 3 cm thick no visible bioturbation MBIO: 104 - 150 cm